Alderton Sunday 23 February 2025

We started the longer Sunday walks today.

Leaving The Gardeners Arms car park, set off on a 6 mile plus walk. Through the fields and up to Alderton Hill, certainly warming us up on a chilly but dry morning. Turning east round the hill then down towards Naunton Farm here picking up the Winchcombe Way. Setting out sites north for Dumbleton. Breaking for lunch in Dumbleton we found a very comfortable shelter. Before returning west back round Dumbleton Hill still on the Winchcombe Way.

Bill finally lead the six of us back to Alderton, for a drink in The Gardeners Arms.
